THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN THE COURSE OF OFFICIAL DUTIES.

Bill Summary

(Note: This summary applies to this bill as introduced and does not reflect any amendments that may be subsequently adopted. If this bill passes third reading in the house of introduction, a bill summary that applies to the reengrossed version of this bill will be available at http://www.leg.state.co.us/billsummaries.)

The bill recognizes that members of the general assembly may need to receive confidential information during the course of their official duties in making decisions and voting on legislation with respect to all areas of state government. The bill encourages members of the general assembly to use this confidential information when it is necessary for carrying out official duties. Because of the general assembly's oversight... over the health care system in Colorado, the bill specifically directs the governor and state agencies to consider the general assembly and its members a health oversight agency under federal law when any member of the general assembly receives individually identifiable health information. The bill requires members of the general assembly that receive confidential information, including individually identifiable health information, to keep the information confidential and only use it as necessary for the consideration of official actions of the general assembly.

The bill changes the Colorado whistleblower protection law to protect state employees from retaliatory disciplinary action when they give information to members of the general assembly. The bill specifies that if a state employee gives confidential information to a member of the general assembly, the member of the general assembly shall keep that information confidential and not make it available for public inspection.
